Masks from Guatemala

These brightly painted hand-carved masks come in several sizes and represent many different animals.

Price: $22- $56

Pearls by Laurie and Lisa Design

Tucson & New York

If diamonds are a girl's best friend, then pearls are a close second. Certainly, pearls can be as pricey as diamonds, but these are made of a less expensive alternative that keeps the same classic look and appeal.

Price: $550 (small); $1200 (large)

Bronze Rabbits by Mark Rossi

With humility and humor, Rossi allows the viewer to observe a quiet moment in the life of the subject he sculpts. Run your hands over the surface of Rossi's bronzes; the details made by his hands and tools are evident.

Price: $120 each

Fused glass miniature picture frames by Ellen Abrams

Price: (from left to right) $18-$22-$26

Cat Wood Carving from Oaxaca

Oaxacan wood carvings are whimsical and enchanting art figures. These imaginative and brilliantly colored figures are hand-carved and painted in tiny villages in the state of Oaxaca.

Price: $36

Bud Vases by Mana

“Mana” is a person, place or thing imbued with spiritual power. Each hand made Mana is charged with the power of devotion and attention to detail.

Price: $35 each

Basket by Fiber Artist Robin White

All materials gathered and/or prepared by the artist. “Hundreds of hours are needed to prepare the materials before I can begin to create an individual piece of work. I have a great respect for the ancient tradition in which I work and hope I am adding to it as a contemporary artist.” White crafts work in all sizes which allows many people to collect her work.

Price: $185

Mosaic Trivets by Sherrie Posternak

Posternak’s mixed media works address themes of “seeing” without prejudice, effects of time and erosion on natural and man-made objects, and balancing the masculine/feminine or intellectual/intuitive in life.

Price: $24
